

Kuehne + Nagel: Brexit

WHAT IS BREXIT?

Article 50 is a plan for any country that wishes to exit the European Union. It was created as part of the Treaty of Lisbon - an agreement signed-up to by all EU states which became law in 2009. Before that treaty there was no formal mechanism for a country to leave the EU.

Following the triggering of Article 50, the UK and European Union are now in a two-year negotiation period to agree the terms and implications of Brexit.

WHAT ARE WE DOING TO MITIGATE RISK?

Kuehne + Nagel has taken key experts from within our business across Airfreight, Overland, Seafreight, Contract Logistics, Customs and Compliance, Human Resources, Legal and Sales to form a steering committee to guide both our Customers and our business moving forward.

The team is driving discussions with Government bodies such as HM Revenue & Customs in addition to industry bodies in a truly collaborative approach.

The team has three main work streams:

- Our customers; to bring industry knowledge through a closer relationship and support the transition when the UK leaves the EU and beyond. In parallel, we will organise customer forums together with industry leaders to keep all stakeholders involved.
- Our colleagues; to inform, support and guide our people on potential requirements and to continue to invest in them.
- Our suppliers; to continue developing partnerships for a mutually beneficial outlook.
